Glynn County, GA— The Golden Isles Development Authority has unveiled a jobs portal that aggregates, and filters positions open in Glynn County, Georgia. The portal pulls in and removes duplicate listings from more than 30,000 public job boards, providing a comprehensive tool for finding a Glynn County job.

The job portal is available on KeepGlynnRunning.com, a site launched earlier in 2020 to help students, families, and educators learn more about local opportunities in engineering and manufacturing.

“The Golden Isles Development Authority is committed to removing barriers and making it simple to connect local businesses with the workforce they need, and people with careers in Glynn County.” Chairman for the Development Authority, Wayne Johnson.

This tool is being offered to businesses and residents at no cost and can be accessed at any time.

“Prior to the pandemic Glynn County was at a record of less than 3% unemployment. At the height of the pandemic we saw our unemployment numbers soar to nearly 16%. As people continue to return to work, our team wants them to think of jobs in Glynn County first. The job portal takes the guess work out of that,” said Vanessa Wagner, Director of Business Development & Strategic Programs with the Golden Isles Development Authority.

The job portal pulls job posting information daily to the site. If a business is advertising on one of the 30,000 job boards that is used to aggregate data from, it will automatically populate to the Keep Glynn Running job portal. These job boards include sites that businesses frequently use like Monster or Indeed. If a business does not see their posting automatically populate, they can submit a request to have their posting included on the portal.
